

Quality Policy

The Duggan Steel Group consists of several subsidiaries with offices located in Kilkenny city and county. The Duggan Steel Group, profiles and distributes roofing products, processes steel coils by slitting, blanking and recoiling and stock holds and distributes structural steel to the island of Ireland.

The Management of the Duggan Steel Group is committed to meeting the needs and expectations of its customers and communicating customer and management requirements to all staff.

Through our ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management System, we ensure compliance with our policies and procedures and strive, through the monitoring of each aspect of our business, to set challenging objectives for continued improvement and the long-term sustainability and profitability of the Group.

Our Factory Production Controls are designed and maintained to ensure compliance to all relevant product standards and procedures.

Safety and environmental regulations will be met always. Using appropriate recycling and waste reduction initiatives, the Duggan Steel Group aims to be leaders in reducing the impact of manufacturing on the environment.

Where appropriate, we will use technology as an enabler of innovation and progress. We operate a fully traceable stock management system which provides confidence in our supply chain and supports our customers' requirements.
